- ii. Send for Review – allows you to send the evaluation to another manager for further feedback and commentary. This is very helpful for those instances where an employee transferred mid-year and you would like feedback from their previous manager on the first half of the year. Consult with your manager to determine if their review is required for any appraisal.
- iii. Complete – once you have finished the appraisal, select complete to send your self-appraisal to your HR Business Partner. Once you select Complete, you will not be able to edit the appraisal.

 - iii. As the manager, you are required to acknowledge the requirement of a Performance Improvement Plan through the annual review process then work with your HR Business Partner to build and execute a successful strategy for employee development and improvement.
 - iv. To acknowledge an overall rating of ‘Needs Improvement’ and the requirement of the Performance Improvement Plan, simply click the radial button next to the acknowledgement statement.

Feedback

- a. Simply click on the Share Feedback box as indicated in the red oval above. A pop-up will appear providing you with options around the type of feedback you wish to share.

- i. Journal Note: A statement or note written by the employee. Add journal notes to record accomplishments and lessons learned throughout the year for yourself. You will be able to access these notes during your self-evaluation at the end of the year.
 - ii. Manager Note: A statement or note written about an employee by management. Add manager notes to record accomplishments and lessons learned throughout the year for any of your direct employees. You will be able to access these notes during the performance evaluation for your employees.
 - iii. Observation: A response or reaction to an employee’s performance that can be written by management. This feature allows you to provide feedback to anyone within the company, not just your department. Both the employee and their direct manager will be able to review the observation.
 - iv. Coaching Tip: An informative commentary or piece of information to help employee development that can be written by management. Coaching tips are a great way to provide guidance to your direct employees to help them develop or refine specific attributes or soft skills.
 - v. Recognition: An acknowledgement of an achievement or a positive acclaim of performance written by anyone. A great tool for all employees to provide positive feedback to anyone within the company. Did Sally go out of her way to help you with a project, issue, etc.? Did Tom build a spreadsheet with all of the bells and whistles to track customer issues for your department? If so, this is a great way to say thank you to that individual but to also make their manager aware and reference back to during the performance evaluation.
- b. Managers have the ability to see the feedback attached to each of their employees.
 - i. Simply click on ‘View My Employees’ from your home screen as shown below.
